FORWARD FROM THE CHAIRMAN

LT COL (RETD) P D NUNN MBE

As I sit here to write my final introduction for the Spring Newsletter I find it a bitter sweet moment. We have achieved much as an association over the last five years. Of course there is much more to do, as you would expect from a thriving fellowship.

As I pack my bag do I have any regrets, not really, but I would like to have seen more success with our campaign to get rid of 75% of our paper newsletters. If the majority would receive their copy by email it would allow us to do so much more with our money. I would also like to see a larger attendance at the May parade in London. It is my dream to see those numbers reach the magic figure of 200; we are close, but not quite there. The Regimental Secretary will touch on the Derby Draw and you will have a book of tickets enclosed with this newsletter. It would be very agreeable to see at least one book of Derby Draw tickets bought by every member; for those of you receiving the newsletter electronically, purchasing a book via email to HHQ is simple and easy alternative option. As you know this scheme is the only revenue we have to run our Association. Some Regimental Associations charge an annual membership fee to enable them to run successfully. We have never done so and it would be terrible if we had to contemplate such an action. Finally it would have been wonderful to see Home Headquarters fully manned but yet again we are one slot short. This time it is the Admin Assistance and until that post is filled please remember we only have a team of three, who can't be everywhere and answer every question immediately but I know Home Headquarters will try.

What of our future, I am certain you agree when I say, we must play to our strengths and encourage those leaving the colours to join-in. Also the unpaid efforts of those that make the Association Troops system work need to be readily recognised and their efforts fully supported through the attendance of serving and retired members at dinners, smokers, and Bar BQ's. Lastly we must continue to support the museum project wherever and however we can, our story is worth telling and it must be told.

In closing this chapter I would like to thank you all for your support, which has been wonderful and I am sure you will be as accommodating to my successor, Col Andrew Cuthbert, as you have been to me.

NEWS FROM THE REGIMENT

Major C J HAINES
SECOND IN COMMAND

The last time I wrote to you, it was from a windowless room in Camp Crowfoot, BATUS, contemplating the major test of readiness for the QRH BG. This time it is from my office in Regimental Headquarters, with spring in the air, awaiting the festivities of St Patrick's Day tomorrow. In my last article I reported that the omens suggested a strong showing from the Regimental Battlegroup (BG) in BATUS and it is with great pride that I can confirm that The QRH BG were tested, and not found wanting. Described as the best BG of the year, and one of the best seen for many years, this rounded off a successful training season for the Regiment as a whole and put us in an excellent place for the year ahead. The last six months has seen the Regiment mostly at home in Athlone Barracks, and if not in camp, then at least in the surrounding area. It has been a time for us all to reflect upon what we have achieved, but not to rest on our laurels, as all squadrons are committed to a variety of tasks during the High Readiness year.

The autumn saw all squadrons conducting Troop level CT1 exercises on the local training area. Although low level compared with the challenge of BATUS, it was a chance to stretch our legs and give the tanks a run out. For those that had recently joined up from Phase 2 training in Bovington, it was a chance for their first taste of life on a tank. Alongside the day to day rhythm of the Regiment, D Squadron deployed to Salisbury Plain to conduct the Land Component Power Visit. Hidden behind a slightly dry title is an all singing and dancing display of all the firepower that the Army has to offer. Imagine a cross between a high budget war film, with the underlying concern of not wanting to upset the many endangered plants and newts that now seem to take precedent on the Plain.

Concurrently, DofE Squadron were busy frightening the Russians by taking part in Ex VENERABLE GAUNTLET. As part of the Very High Readiness Joint Task Force (Land) (VJTf(L)), the Squadron sits at 'very high readiness' with an 18 tank squadron available to deploy anywhere in the world. The Exercise saw the deployment of several thousand troops from across NATO, demonstrating what they have to offer. The exercise piqued international media interest, and had the desired effect of ruffling the feathers of the Russians.

Of course, it was not all work. The annual Birmingham Remembrance weekend was as usual a highlight of the calendar. As ever, It was a great opportunity to catch up with old friends, and the parade on the Sunday was well attended by both Old Comrades and the serving Regiment. The football and rugby matches against the West Midlands Police were hard fought, but it is of course the taking part, not the winning that counts. As Christmas approached, all three Messes celebrated with individual events, with the squadrons using their Common Rooms for parties as well.

As usual, the run up to Christmas and the weeks after New Year were busy preparing for the annual gunnery camp at Bergen-Hohne. The build up to ranges was as busy as ever, with the simulators running red hot, and the gunnery staff, not far behind. Following a successful CO's tank inspection, the Regiment deployed en masse several hours North to the delights of Bergen Hohne Camp.

With the closure of all British camps in the area, ranges had to be seen as more of an expeditionary task, than in previous years, with no support available from other units. While the infrastructure still looks the same, there is an eeriness to the area without the frantic hustle and bustle that we are used to. In some ways the isolated nature of this year's ranges brought the Regiment closer together, with Squadron 'common rooms' firmly placed as the social hubs. Overall it was an exceptionally successful range period with Recce Tp operating in front of tanks troops during the Annual Troop Assessment and completing data hand off over targets (in essence highlighting the location of the enemy on a computer map between vehicles. The gunnery was of an exceptional standard with 95.4% (showing accuracy both on the range and my calculator) passing their Annual Crew Tests (ACTs) first time. For the second year running, it was Lt Spink with 3rd Troop, D Squadron who won the Churchill Cup for best Troop with the Recce Troop Shield going to Cpls Davies and Clegg.

In the sporting world, the Regiment continues to build upon success. The rugby team has played a number of league matches, with individuals being called upon to play for the RAC. They also entered a team into the Tivorno Snow Rugby tournament in Italy, pushing through to reach the semi-finals. The football team have been no less active with numerous BA(G) fixtures played and the Cavalry Cup Quarter Final versus The King's Royal Hussars imminent. Balls aside, both the uphill and downhill ski teams performed to a high standard. The Nordics, under the tutelage of Lt Col Charles Bromley-Gardner, came in the top third of the Divisional championships; whilst the Alpine team almost had to hire another minibus to haul their silver back to Athlone. Finally, Capt Matt Campbell-Wild organised an extremely successful Boxing Night; especially successful for the RSM who beat the Adjutant in a very close bout.

Finally it would be remiss not to mention the handover of Commanding Officer with Lt Col Alex Porter handing over to Lt Col Nick Cowley MBE at the beginning of March. Looking back over the last two and a half years it is hard to quantify the totality of the impact that Lt Col Porter has had but it is clear that the Regiment has gone from strength to strength during his tenure. We wish him, Vic and Florence all the very best wishes for their next challenge in SHAPE where he becomes Military Assistant to the Supreme Allied Commander.

Looking ahead, the Squadrons are back on the local training area as we speak, completing their CT2 Squadron level training. For BGHQ and A Squadron the opportunity has arisen to take part in Ex SABRE JUNCTION. This is a Brigade level NATO exercise to test the Alliance's ability to deploy and counter a threat from the East. No doubt working with our multi-national partners will be a challenge, but it will represent an extremely realistic scenario with all of the frictions that this will create.

Mente et Manu.

NEWS FROM HOME HEADQUARTERS

Major Jim Austin Regimental Secretary

HHQ STAFFING

I am pleased to inform you all that since the last newsletter (Autumn 2016) we have managed to fill the post of Assistant Regimental Secretary. Mr Sean Hamilton (known as Seamus when he was in the Regiment) started work in early November.

Seamus served with the Irish Hussars for 13 years, initially as a tank soldier before switching to the clerical role. He was compulsorily transferred to the AGC (SPS) in 1993. During his service with the AGC he was primarily employed in IT as a specialist programmer analyst and was heavily involved in the conception and initial roll-out of ArmyNet and Army Portal. He left the Army in 2005 having completed a 26 year career. He has a BSc in IT and Computing and since leaving the Army he has been self-employed as an IT consultant and was initially contracted by the MOD as a programmer specialising in web development for 3 years.

There is no doubt that Seamus's appointment is a huge benefit to HHQ and the Association and I know that he is looking forward to meeting as many of you as possible at various events over the forthcoming months.

NEW REGIMENTAL ASSOCIATION WEBSITE

I am very conscious that the Association does not currently have a website that is fit for purpose. In the technological driven age in which we now live we should be able to communicate with all our members, quickly, effectively and easily. Communicating solely by post is labour intensive, time consuming and expensive; the days of doing things by post are fast coming to an end and the Association must move with the times. To that end we intend to launch a new Queen's Royal Hussars Regimental Association website within the next few months. The intent is that eventually the website will become the hub for all Association related news, updates and communications. It is my intention that the site will include specific pages such as:

HHQ News

Association News

Serving Regiment News

Regional Troop News (each Troop will have its own designated page)

A general enquiries form

Events and function attendance returns (including electronic payment options)

Historical Section

Nostalgic 'Look Back' section with photographs and articles from former serving comrades.

Regimental Shop

Where are they now? (for those attempting to find old pals)

These are just a few ideas that we have discussed. The website will be continually evolving and we will welcome other suggestions for consideration that will enhance the website and be of benefit to the Association and our members.

I am very conscious that there is a small contingent of our membership that do not own a computer, iPhone or iPod or have access to this technology and I can assure them that they will not be forgotten and will continue to receive periodic news by post.

NEWSLETTER BY EMAIL

For a number of years now HHQ has been trying to establish a newsletter by email address list and has repeatedly asked for members to provide an email address so that the newsletter can be sent to them electronically. As at the beginning of February, from a membership of nearly 2,000, only 300 had actually supplied an email address for this purpose. However, we are aware that we do hold many more email addresses on other lists that we use for notifying deaths etc. We have therefore taken email addresses from these lists and copied them to the newsletter list. This will not only save us a significant amount of money on postage but will help us set the foundation for the new Association website in that we will be able to email the go live date to enable members to register and gain access to the site without delay.

ASSOCIATION DATABASE UPDATE

The vast majority of registration forms used to populate our database are more than 15+ years old and some of the information will be out of date. In order to ensure that the information we hold is correct, please complete the enclosed ASSOCIATION REGISTRATION FORM 2017 and either return it electronically to chck@qrhussars.co.uk or by post to HHQ.

CAVALRY MEMORIAL PARADE 2017

The 93rd Combined Cavalry Old Comrades Association Annual Parade and Service will take place in Hyde Park, London on Sunday 14th May 2017. Those attending are asked to assemble on the Broad Walk under the Regimental Association banner by no later than 10:30. Programmes will be available at the assembly point from the Assistant Regimental Secretary but copies are also available from ACF members who will be clearly identifiable in uniform.

The Association has been allocated 40 Seating Enclosure Tickets and 40 Standing Area Tickets. Access to both Seating and Standing Areas is strictly by ticket only as it provides a level of security that will be jeopardised if disregarded.

Regrettably, due to the involvement of RHQ, 'A' Squadron and HQ Squadron on commitments, the Regiment will not be able to fully support the Parade. Therefore, please show your support to the Regimental Association, and honour those who made the ultimate sacrifice, by making an exceptional effort to attend the Parade this year.

REGIMENTAL ASSOCIATION LUNCHEON

Following the Cavalry Memorial Parade on Sunday 14th May, the Regimental Association will be holding a Luncheon in The Lansdowne Club, 9 Fitzmaurice Place, London W1J 5JD, 12:00 for 12:30. Details can be found on the enclosed Lunch Return Form. This event is proving to be very popular and, with a subsidy on ticket prices from the Association, is extremely good value for money. Again, if you are attending the Parade, please also consider coming to the lunch.

COMBINED CAVALRY OLD COMRADES ASSOCIATION (CCOCA) COMMITTEE MEMBERS

CCOCA's primary responsibility is to organise and administer the Cavalry Memorial Parade each year. Every HCav & RAC regiment (less RTR) are members of CCOCA and as such are obliged to provide a minimum of 3 representatives on the Committee who would also assist in the administration of the Parade on the day as marshals etc. Committee members can be of any former rank and are currently a mixture of retired officers, SNCOs, NCOs and soldiers. The Committee meets in The WOs' and NCOs' Mess at Hyde Park Barracks approximately 4 times per year. The short meetings (approx. 45 minutes) are followed by a sandwich buffet and beer (or 2) and for many is an opportunity to catch up with old friends and news from across the Corps. At the moment QRH only have 2 members on the Committee and one of them will probably only be able to continue for another year or two for health reasons. If you live within a reasonable commuting distance of Hyde Park Barracks, by road or public transport (travel costs will be refunded from Association funds), and would like to represent the Regiment as a member of this prestigious organisation, please contact the Regimental Secretary.

THE REGIMENTAL MUSEUM OF THE QUEEN'S ROYAL HUSSARS

There is little to add since the progress report in the Autumn 2016 newsletter. The QOH and QRIH museums have now closed and, as I type, artefacts are being unpacked and stored in Trinity Mews. Work will begin on the museum building later this month and the aspiration is to open the new museum in Spring 2018. To those members who have donated, THANK YOU, your generosity has enabled us to get to this point. However, the fund raising committee calculates that we are about £300k short of the sum required to run the museum on a daily basis. The two appeals by letter to date were specifically targeted to those who we thought would want to help. There will be many Regimental Comrades who we may have missed in the appeals. If you are one, may I ask you to consider making a donation and also encourage everyone in the Regimental family that you know to also make a donation? Every contribution to the appeal, regardless of amount, makes a difference. Details of how to make a donation can be found in the museum website www.qrhmuseum.uk. Simply follow the 'Donate Today' tab at the top right hand side of the page. If you don't have access to the site, contact HHQ and we will be happy to download the appeal form and send it to you by post. With a good tail wind, we are confident we will achieve our goal and have a museum of which we can all be justifiably proud.

THE REGIMENTAL ASSOCIATION DERBY DRAW 2017

I want to begin by thanking all of you who already regularly support the Association via the Derby Draw. Unlike many other Regimental Associations, our members do not pay an annual subscription. The Derby Draw is therefore the only annual fund raising activity that the Association conducts. Not to be confused with the Benevolent Fund, which raises its funds via the serving soldiers day's pay scheme and is used to provide relief in need and financial assistance to our serving and former serving soldiers who have fallen on hard times, the money raised from the Derby Draw helps the Association to be able to subsidise the various association dinners and lunches held throughout the year. Additionally, it also enables the Association to provide grants to worthy causes which fall short of benevolent funding regulations (e.g. the cleaning of the War Memorials outside RHQ; maintenance of our Regimental Memorial at the National Memorial Arboretum; assist with travel for serving soldier's to return to the UK to represent the serving Regiment at events (i.e. Freedom Parades etc.)).

Last year we sent out 2,000 books of ten tickets @£10 per book and received £3,900 in sales, which equates to 390 books, or 1 sold in every 4. After expenditure is extracted (ticket production, postage and prize money) the Draw raised just under £2,000 to the Association, for which we are extremely grateful, but it doesn't go a long way! If, however, every member purchased just one book then the Draw would have raised just under £18,000 and enabled the Association to do so much more. In short, the more money the Association can raise through the Derby Draw, the more all of our members, both former serving and serving, will benefit. I therefore ask you to consider purchasing the one book of tickets enclosed with this newsletter; the cost of a couple of pints of beer! You can pay by cheque (made payable to QRH Association) or BAC transfer (the account details are below). You could also consider setting up a standing order to the account!

For those receiving the newsletter by email, simply send me an email informing me how many books you would like and confirmation of payment by cheque or BAC transfer. Likewise, you could also consider setting up a standing order to the account! I will fill in your details on the stubs for you and send you your ticket serial numbers by email, which helps save on postage!

PLEASE SUPPORT YOUR ASSOCIATION AND ENABLE IT TO SUPPORT OUR MEMBERS!

THANK YOU!
